Past Still Alive The Pittsburgh History Landmarks Foundation:

A Past Still Alive Walter C. Kidney, 1989      Beyond Rust Allen Dieterich-Ward, 2016 Beyond Rust chronicles the rise and fall and rebirth of metropolitan Pittsburgh an industrial region that once formed the heart of the world's steel production and is now touted as a model for reviving other hard hit cities of the Rust Belt Writing in clear and engaging prose historian and area native Allen Dieterich Ward provides a new model for a truly metropolitan history that integrates the urban core with its regional hinterland of satellite cities white collar suburbs mill towns and rural mining areas Pittsburgh reached its industrial heyday between 1880 and 1920 as vertically integrated industrial corporations forged a regional community in the mountainous Upper Ohio River Valley Over subsequent decades metropolitan population growth slowed as mining and manufacturing employment declined Faced with economic and environmental disaster in the 1930s Pittsburgh's business elite and political leaders developed an ambitious program of pollution control and infrastructure development The public private partnership behind the Pittsburgh Renaissance as advocates called it pursued nothing less than the selective erasure of the existing social and physical environment in favor of a modernist functionally divided landscape a goal that was widely copied by other aging cities and one that has important ramifications for the broader national story Ultimately the Renaissance vision of downtown skyscrapers sleek suburban research campuses and bucolic regional parks resulted in an uneven transformation that tore the urban fabric while leaving deindustrializing river valleys and impoverished coal towns isolated from areas of postwar growth Beyond Rust is among the first books of its kind to continue past the collapse of American manufacturing in the 1980s by exploring the diverse ways residents of an iconic industrial region sought places for themselves within a new economic order      Twentieth-Century Pittsburgh, Volume Two Roy Lubove, 1996-02-15 This volume traces the major decisions events programs and personalities that transformed the city of Pittsburgh during its urban renewal project which began in 1977 Roy Lubove demonstrates how the city showed united determination to attract high technology companies in an attempt to reverse the economic fallout from the decline of the local steel industry Lubove also separates the successes from the failures the good intentions from the actual results      Restoring Women's History Through Historic Preservation Gail Lee Dubrow, Jennifer B. Goodman, 2003-01-28 This essay collection draws upon work presented at three national conferences on women and historic preservation held at Bryn Mawr College in 1994 Arizona State University in 1997 and at Mount Vernon College in 2000      Beyond the Surface Walter C. Kidney, 2006      Industrial Heritage and Regional Identities Christian Wicke, Stefan Berger, Jana Golombek, 2018-04-09 Heritage is not what we see in front of us it is what we make of it in our heads Heritage sites have been connected to a range of identity projects both spatial and non spatial One of the most common links with heritage has been national identity This book stresses that heritage has developed powerful links to regional and local identities Contributors deal explicitly with regions of heavy industry in different parts of the world exploring non spatial forms of identity including class religious ethnic racial gender and cultural identities In many heritage sites non spatial forms of identity are interlinked with spatial ones Civil society action has been important in representations of regional identities and industrial heritage campaigns Region branding seems to determine the ultimate success of industrial heritage a process that is closely connected to the marketing of regions to provide a viable economic future and attract tourism to the region Selected case studies on coal and steel producing regions in this book provide the first global survey of how regions of heavy industry deal with their industrial heritage and what it means for regional identity and region branding This book draws a range of powerful conclusions about the path dependency of particular forms for post industrial regional identity in former regions of heavy industry It highlights both commonalities and differences in the strategies employed with regard to the regions industrial heritage This book will appeal to lecturers students and scholars in the fields of heritage management industrial studies and cultural geography

Mellon Square Susan Rademacher,2014-11-18 The second volume in our Modern Landscapes series examines the evolution of Pittsburgh s first modern garden plaza Completed in 1955 from a design by the acclaimed landscape design firm Simonds Simonds and architects Mitchell Ritchey Mellon Square functioned as an urban oasis that provided downtown office workers a much needed respite from the city's infamous smoke pollution. Now more than six decades later Mellon Square is undergoing a major restoration by Patricia O'Donnell of Heritage Landscapes that aims to restore this urban garden and help revitalize downtown Pittsburgh. Featuring new photography and archival material, Mellon Square is the only book to showcase the development of this iconic urban landscape.

Landmark Architecture of Palm Beach Barbara D. Hoffstot, 2015-02-24 Palm Beach is a remarkably small town to be so famous; its population is only a little over 10,000. Nor is it an old town; the oldest extant building dates from about 1885 and the town itself was not incorporated until after 1900. What has granted Palm Beach its fame is the same combination of elements that made Bath famous in the 18th century: a very few clear-sighted men they can be counted on the fingers of one hand; wealthy families attracted to what these men had to offer; and some remarkable architecture built when wealth and vision intermingled. This book records that architecture. The contents are strategically arranged so that the visitor can drive or walk the area and see the buildings in sequence of location. Within this compendium of photographs and descriptive text, you will find more than 150 Palm Beach buildings, written and photographed by a resident active in historic preservation. The book does not attempt to evaluate but rather to exhibit the richness and diversity of this extraordinary place. The work of famous architects is featured, notably that of Addison Mizner, Marion Wyeth, Maurice Fatio, Howard Major, John Volk, and the designer Joseph Urban. Also covered are the famous Breakers Hotel, the Bath and Tennis Club, the Everglades Club, and the shops of Worth Avenue.

Preservation in American Towns and Cities Nathan Gerald Weinberg, 2022-01-26 This book provides a glimpse of what has happened in the preservation movement in 130 years, from the lawns of Mount Vernon to the row houses of Mount Auburn. It discusses the need to continue refining standards, identifying weaknesses, and extolling excellence in the marketplace of preservation.

Historic Preservation, Third Edition: An Introduction to Its History, Principles, and Practice (Third Edition) Norman Tyler, Ilene R. Tyler, Ted J. Ligibel, 2018-10-16 This classic text covers the gamut of preservation issues in layman's language. Historic preservation, which started as a grassroots movement, now represents the cutting edge in a cultural revolution focused on green architecture and sustainability. This book provides comprehensive coverage of the many facets of historic preservation: the philosophy and history of the movement; the role of government; the documentation and designation of historic properties; sensitive architectural designs and planning; preservation technology; and heritage tourism, plus a survey of architectural styles. An ideal introduction to the field for students, historians, preservationists, property owners, local officials, and community leaders, this thoroughly revised edition addresses new subjects including heritage tourism and partnering with the environmental community. It also includes updated case studies to reflect the most important historic preservation issues of today and brings the conversation into the twenty-first century.

African Americans in Sewickley Valley Bettie Cole, Autumn Redcross, 2008 The African Americans of Sewickley Valley have a history as rich and deep-rooted as the valley itself. Originally pioneered by Quakers and abolitionists, sentimental to the cause of enslaved men Sewickley is noted for containing routes and safe houses for those on the Underground Railroad Known as an affluent bedroom community Sewickley is considered the wealthiest municipality along the entire 98 mile stretch of the Ohio River Early residents brought black servants with them to serve as domestics As construction increased many African Americans migrated primarily from Virginia and Kentucky to work in the area as builders The organization of Sewickley s first African American mission marked the start of a strong and lively course for the African American community Beginning with Jim Robinson in 1823 through the culmination of today s Come on Home annual reunion African Americans in Sewickley Valley documents the life and ambition of the African Americans who grew as a vital part of Sewickley s community today

Heritage Conservation in the United States John H. Sprinkle, Jr., 2023-05-25 Heritage Conservation in the United States begins to trace the growth of the American historic preservation movement over the last 50 years viewed from the context of the civil rights and environmental movements The first generation of the New Preservation 1966 1991 was characterized by the establishment of the bureaucratic structures that continue to shape the practice of heritage conservation in the United States The National Register of Historic Places began with less than a thousand historic properties and grew to over 50 000 listings Official recognition programs expanded causing sites that would never have been considered as either significant or physically representative in 1966 now being regularly considered as part of a historic preservation planning process The book uses the story of how sites associated with African American history came to be officially recognized and valued and how that process challenged the conventions and criteria that governed American preservation practice This book is designed for the historic preservation community and students engaged in the study of historic preservation
