Coming Home to Eat: The Pleasures and Politics of Local Foods Gary Paul Nabhan, 2002-11-17 Amazing and eloquent Nabhan makes us understand how finding and eating local foods connects us deeply and sensually Alice Waters Chez Panisse Issuing a profound and engaging passionate call to us to re think our food industry Jim Harrison author of The Raw and the Cooked Gary Paul Nabhan reminds us that eating close to home is not just a matter of convenience it is an act of deep cultural and environmental significance Embodying a perspective at once ecological economic humanistic and spiritual Los Angeles Times Nabhan has dedicated his life to raising awareness about food as an avid gardener as an ethnobotanist preserving seed diversity and as an activist devoted to recovering native food traditions in the Southwest This inspired and eloquently detailed account Rick Bayless Chefs Collaborative tells of his year long mission to eat only foods grown fished or gathered within two hundred miles of his home A good book for gardeners to read this winter The New York Times Nabhan's work weaves together the traditions of Thoreau and M F K Fisher in a soul food treatise for our time Peter Hoffman Chefs Collaborative

Consuming Experience Antonella Caru, Bernard Cova, 2013-01-11 This book covers the hot topic of the experiential consumption in an accessible manner and from a unique industry perspective which is not used in any other book It highlights the idea that an experience is not something that can be readily managed by firms and is not limited to the market an individual's daily life is made up of consuming experiences that can occur with or without a market relation Offering an overview of the consumption experience it outlines a continuum of experiences of consumption that consumers go through including those that are mainly constructed by consumers around small items that comprise their daily life such as organic products and non profit or local associations those that have been co developed by companies and consumers tourism or adventure projects rock concerts and cultural events those that have been largely developed by the companies where consumers are immersed in a hyper real context such as fashion sports brands edutainment and retail Broad and comprehensive this book provides a challenging vision of the consumption experience which is an invaluable tool for all those studying marketing and consumer behaviour
