Pastoral Care And Process Theology By Jackson Gordon E:

The Social Context of Pastoral Care George M. Furniss, 1994-01-01 Because their work focuses primarily on the fields of theology and psychology pastoral caregivers have often neglected to take into account the social forces that affect both the careseeker and the caregiver In this groundbreaking book sociologist and chaplain George Furniss introduces them to a third discipline sociology to draw upon in their work Furniss offers an introduction to sociological approaches that are particularly relevant to those in the field Brief biographical notes about key figures in sociology and a glossary of terms are supplied to assist those who lack extensive background in sociology Moving Beyond Individualism in Pastoral Care and Counseling

Barbara J McClure, 2011-10-27 Despite astute critiques and available resources for alternative modes of thinking and practicing individualism continues to be a dominating and constraining ideology in the field of pastoral psychotherapy and counseling Philip Rieff was one of the first to highlight the negative implications of individualism in psychotherapeutic theories and practices As heirs and often enthusiasts of the Freudian tradition of which Rieff and others are critical pastoral theologians have felt the sting of his charge and yet the empirical research that McClure presents shows that pastoral counseling practitioners resist change Their attempts to overcome an individualistic perspective have been limited and ineffective because individualism is embedded in the field's dominant theological and theoretical resources practices and organizational arrangements Only a radical reappraisal of these will make possible pastoral counseling practices in a post individualistic mode McClure proposes several critical transformations broadening and deepening the operative theologies used to guide the healing practice expanding the role of the pastoral counselor reimagining the operative anthropology reclaiming sin and judgment nuancing the particular against the individual rethinking the ideal outcome of the practices and reimagining the organizational structures that support the practices Only this level of revisioning will enable this ministry of the church to move beyond its individualistic limitations and offer healing in more complex effective and socially adequate ways Gestalt in Pastoral Care and Counseling Jeffrey D Hamilton, 2014-05-22 Gestalt in Pastoral Care and Counseling is

Clements, Howard W Stone, 2013-09-05 In Theological Context for Pastoral Caregiving Howard W Stone helps his fellow pastors and worship leaders provide effective and faithful pastoral care and counseling through the study of the correlation between pastoral care and theology You will learn that in order for pastoral care to be effective it must have a theological base to shape the caregiving experience At the same time theology must be informed by the needs and experiences of the people being served and by the ministry of pastoral care By relating these two issues you gain a unique viewpoint not offered by books with simply a psychological focus The author draws from his day to day clinical practice of pastoral care and counseling to show how pastoral care and theology can be brought together Through Howard Stone's work the reader learns

God-creature-revelation Jerry D. Kormeyer,1995 Educated Western Christians seek to understand the scientific basis of evolution as well as to justify why a God worth worshiping can be responsible yet not indictable for evil The author creates an innovative theological framework that addresses these concerns and provides part of a structure for fundamental theology which is based on the neoclassical metaphysics of Charles Hartshorne and the speculative cosmology of Alfred North Whitehead His model of the divine has three basic principles God is love God is the creator and this creativity is an integral part of divine essence From this model he develops a fundamental theology which focuses on the nature of divinity the interaction between human and the divine and divine revelation He attributes much of his own concept of revelation to Whitehead s model in which revelation is indicative of a successful communion between human and divine This revelation is achieved through symbolic mediation and it is as much inter personal reconciliation as it is a universal resonance of the creative essence between heaven and earth This framework shows initial agreement with Christian traditions it is highly coherent universal in scope and most importantly it has rich potential for future Christian understanding
