The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture Judith H. Bonner, Estill Curtis Pennington, Charles Reagan Wilson, 2013-01-14 From the Potomac to the Gulf artists were creating in the South even before it was recognized as a region The South has contributed to America s cultural heritage with works as diverse as Benjamin Henry Latrobe s architectural plans for the nation s Capitol the wares of the Newcomb Pottery and Richard Clague s tonalist Louisiana bayou scenes This comprehensive volume shows how through the decades and centuries the art of the South expanded from mimetic portraiture to sophisticated responses to national and international movements The essays treat historic and current trends in the visual arts and architecture major collections and institutions and biographies of artists themselves As leading experts on the region s artists and their work editors Judith H Bonner and Estill Curtis Pennington frame the volume s contributions with insightful overview essays on the visual arts and architecture in the American South Newcomb College, 1886-2006 Susan Tucker, Beth Willinger, 2012-05-07 In 1886 Josephine Louise Newcomb donated funds to Tulane University for the founding of the H Sophie Newcomb Memorial College Her contribution created the nation s first degree granting coordinate college for women For more than a century Newcomb College educated thousands of young women in the liberal arts and sciences preparing them for positions in the civic and economic world of New Orleans and the South Newcomb College 1886 2006 explores the rich history and tradition of the college through a diverse and multidisciplinary collection of essays Early chapters focus on the life of Josephine Louise Newcomb and her desire to memorialize her daughter Sophie as well as the development of student culture in the Progressive Era Several essays explore the staples of a Newcomb education from its acclaimed pottery and junior year abroad programs to lesser known but trailblazing work in physical education and chemistry Concluding biographical and autobiographical chapters recount the lives of distinguished alumnae and the personal memories of Newcomb s influence on New Orleans The essays offer insight into the work of artists Caroline Wogan Durieux and Ida Kohlmeyer education reformer Sarah Towles Reed U S representative Lindy Boggs and other Newcomb leaders in various fields Throughout the book contributors reflect on the curriculum pedagogy and alliances that created paths for students not only for advanced studies but also for their roles as friends wives mothers reformers and professionals Touching on three centuries the book concludes in 2006 when Tulane University closed Newcomb College and Paul Tulane College the arts and sciences college for men and united the two as Newcomb Tulane College This absorbing collection offers both a scholarly history and an affectionate tribute to a Newcomb education Expressions of Place John R.

Kemp, 2016-09-27 Expressions of Place embarks on a journey across the rural and urban landscapes of Louisiana via the talents of thirty seven artists located all around the state. Many are acclaimed professionals whose paintings are included in major private and public collections regionally and nationally. Others have found their followings closer to home. All however strive to express impressions of the land with artistic styles that range from traditional to the symbolic and almost totally abstract. Such a variety of interpretation becomes possible in a landscape that changes from dark cypress shrouded bayous, trembling earth, grassy prairies, the gritty streets of inner city New Orleans to vast wind swept coastal marshes and the piney hills of north and central Louisiana. Rather than stand as an encyclopedia catalog or history of the visual arts in Louisiana, Kemp's book is instead a celebration of the state's evocative landscape in the work of accomplished contemporary artists. It includes an introductory essay which places these creators and their works in historical context. Expressions of Place provides readers with individual essays and biographical sketches in which the artists in their own words give insight as to what they paint, how they paint, where they paint, and why they are drawn to the Louisiana landscape. Particularly inspiring, the artists discuss their interpretations of that landscape directly with the viewing audience. Expressions of Place remains as much about the landscape of the artists' imaginations as it is about the land itself. With each painting they have created visual poetry of a land and environment that has become a defining part of their lives. Central to Their Lives Lynne Blackman, 2018-06-20 Scholarly essays on the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South. Looking back at her lengthy career just four years before her death, modernist painter Nell Blaine said, "Art is central to my life. Not being able to make or see art would be a major deprivation." The Virginia native's creative path began early and during the course of her life she overcame significant barriers in her quest to make and even see art, including serious vision problems, polio, and paralysis. And then there was her gender. In 1957, Blaine was hailed by Life magazine as someone to watch, profiled alongside four other emerging painters whom the journalist praised not as notable women artists but as notable artists who happen to be women. In Central to Their Lives, twenty-six noted art historians offer scholarly insight into the achievements of female artists working in and inspired by the American South. Spanning the decades between the late 1890s and early 1960s, this volume examines the complex challenges these artists faced in a traditionally conservative region during a period in which women's social, cultural, and political roles were being redefined and reinterpreted. The presentation and its companion exhibition feature artists from all of the Southern states, including Dusti Bong, Anne Goldthwaite, Anna Hyatt Huntington, Ida Kohlmeyer, Lois Mailou Jones, Alma Thomas, and Helen Turner. These essays examine how the variables of historical gender norms, educational barriers, race, regionalism, sisterhood, suffrage, and modernism mitigated and motivated these women who were seeking expression on canvas or in clay. Whether working from studio space in spare rooms at home or on the world stage, these artists made remarkable contributions to the art world while fostering future generations of artists through instruction, incorporating new aesthetics into the fine arts, and challenging the status quo.
