Colonisation, Migration, and Marginal Areas Mariana Mondini, Sebastián Munoz, Stephen Wickler, 2017-01-23

Human migration tends to involve more than the odd suitcase or two we often carry other organisms on our travels some are deliberately transported others move by accident This volume of 12 papers offers a zooarchaeological approach to questions surrounding the nature and extent of human colonization and migration and the adaptation of humans to new and sometimes extreme or challenging environments The volume is divided into two parts Part 1 takes up the theme of Human and Animal Migration and Colonisation Contributors consider the relationship between human movements and the movements of animals and animal products case studies look at Neolithic population movements in Oceania the Norse colonization of Greenland and the European settlement of Virginia Part 2 focuses on the topic of Behavioural Variability in the So Called Marginal Areas Contributors offer various interpretations of the concept of marginality from climatic extremes of the Arctic cold and the heat
