Patchwork Landscape The Living Countrysi:

The Patchwork Landscape, 1984 Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedroli, Anne van Doorn, Geert de Blust, 2014-12-22
This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology Countryside Conservation Bryn Green, 2013-09-13 This third edition of the standard text Countryside Conservation charts and evaluates those changes which represent a fundamental revolution in the ways in which the countryside is planned and managed It sets out the principles policies and practice which underlie the ecology planning and management of the new countryside discussing ways in which countryside conservation objectives are evolving and how they can best be achieved Naturopa, 1987 Whitaker's Books in Print, 1990 Approaches to Landscape Richard Muir, 1999-01-20 Approaches to Landscape introduces and explores the main perspectives in this increasingly popular field of study Written in an accessible style and illustrated throughout with relevant photographs maps and diagrams it provides a comprehensive review of the literature and key concepts for Landscape Studies A Bird in the Bush Stephen Moss, 2013-07-25 This journey through the world of birdwatchers is a wonderful book fascinating often hilarious anecdotes and information Daily Mail Critic's Choice Scholarly authoritative and above all supremely readable Stephen Moss's book is the first to trace the fascinating history of how and why people have watched birds for pleasure from the beginnings with Gilbert White in the eighteenth century through World War II POWs watching birds from inside their prison camp and all the way to today's twitchers with their beeping pagers driving hundreds of miles for a rare bird Proves that birdwatchers can be as instructive to watch as birds Sunday Times Thoroughly researched and well written The Guardian Moss knows his subject intimately and writes about it with just the right mixture of affection and occasional quizzicality Sunday Telegraph It would be difficult to imagine anyone producing a more comprehensive thoughtful intelligent and entertaining examination of how people have watched birds at each point in history In fact it is one of the few books which might prove such compulsive reading that even a dedicated twitcher might forgo a day in the field to stay at home to finish it Birding World

The Countryside Ideal Michael Bunce, 2005-10-26 God made the country man made the town William Cowper's words written two centuries ago underline an idealisation of rural life and landscape which persists to this day What are the main historical processes and ideas underlying the continuing attachment to the countryside How have these shaped popular values and lifestyles influenced artistic expression defined attitudes to nature country life and landscape and affected the development of both rural and urban landscapes What are the consequences for society and the environment These are the central questions addressed in this book The Countryside Ideal draws together diverse images of landscape to explore this preoccupation with place culture and representation in the West

Nature of the Miracle Years Sandra Chaney, 2008 After 1945 those responsible for conservation in Germany resumed their work with a relatively high degree of continuity as far as laws and personnel were concerned Yet conservationists soon found they had little choice but to modernize their views and practices in the challenging postwar context Forced to change by necessity those involved in state sponsored conservation institutionalized and professionalized their efforts while several private groups became more confrontational in their message and tactics Through their steady and often conservative presence within the mainstream of West German society conservationists ensured that by 1970 the map of the country was dotted with hundreds of reserves dozens of nature parks and one national park In doing so they assured themselves a strong position to participate in rather than be excluded from the left leaning environmental movement of the 1970s The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1995 Land of the Living Ivor MacDonald,2005-10-03 A flourishing earth that reflects the diversity bounty and beauty of its Creator must be cared for There are compelling reasons for all Christians rural and urban to be concerned for the land If you love the Creator you must love his creation and to love his creation you must love the communities that are charged with looking after it Land of the Living reflects on some of the pressures on agricultural communities today and argues that the land is still spiritually important and has an important place in God s eternal purposes Issues such as urbanisation technology mobility and the importance of roots globalisation and food are viewed through the twin lenses of rural life and theology Zingster reloaded Weidinger, Jürgen,Barjenbruch, Matthias,King, Luise,Köhl, Florian,Naimer, Markus,2017-01-11 he objective of the project was to transform this large mono functional housing estate into a sustainable functionally diverse and socially blended urban district with innovative and sustainably organized technical infrastructure systems The project brought together urban designers landscape architects and architects as well as specialists in urban water management and energy While the urban designers focused on differentiation and diversity on the integration of workplaces and communicative uses on problems of cautious densification and on a redefinition of public spaces the architects were concerned with reconstruction measures and potential new uses well defined intervention in the existing stock of concrete slab prefabricated housing transformation of environment integration of new housing types in existing construction as well as new construction The landscape architecture is creating functional open spaces differing in their character and atmosphere while urban water management and energy specialists on the other hand sought to develop concepts of responsible use of resources The chapter on energy technology presents decentralized solar hot water heating systems heat recovery from wastewater radiant heating and controlled ventilation and shows that CO2 free heating is possible in large housing estates As for urban water management its aims are water conservation water nutrient and energy recycling and preservation of local water resources The project presents solutions for dealing with rainwater grey and black water for instance an area integrated black water system which is able to recycle energy and nutrients The particular quality of this project consists in the synthesis of the research results of all involved disciplines The authors build up an example setting for the transformation of a monofunctional dormitory town district into sustainable mixed district Ziel des Projektes ist die Entwicklung der monofunktionalen Gro wohnsiedlung hin zu einem zukunfts fähigen funktional und sozial gemischten Stadtteil mit innovativen nachhaltig organisierten Systemen der technischen Infrastruktur Beteiligte Disziplinen sind Städtebau Landschaftsarchitektur und Architektur sowie Siedlungswasserwirtschaft und Energie Während es im Städtebau um Differenzierung und Vielfalt Integration von

Reanimating Regions James Riding, Martin Jones, 2017-05-12 Writing regions undertaking a regional study was once a standard form of geographic communication and critique This was until the quantitative revolution in the middle of the previous century and more definitively the critical turn in human geography towards the end of the twentieth century From then on writing regions as they were experienced phenomenologically or arguing culturally historically and politically with regions was deemed to be old fashioned Yet the region is and always will be a central geographical concept and thinking about regions can tell us a lot about the history of the discipline called geography Despite taking up an identifiable place within the geographical imagination in scholarship and beyond region remains a relatively forgotten under used and in part under theorised term Reanimating Regions marks the continued reinvigoration of a set of disciplinary debates surrounding regions the regional and regional geography Across 18 chapters from international interdisciplinary scholars this book writes and performs region as a temporary permanence something held stable not fixed and absolute at different points in time for different purposes There is as this expansive volume outlines no single reading of a region Reanimating Regions collectively rebalances the region within geography and geographical thought In renewing the geography of regions as not only a site of investigation but also as an analytical framework through which to write the world what emerges is a powerful reworking of the geographic imagination Read against one another the chapters weave together timely commentaries on region and regions across the globe with a particular emphasis upon the regional as played out in the United Kingdom and regional worlds both within and beyond Europe offering chapters from Africa and South America Addressing both the political and the cultural this volume responds to the need for a consolidated and considered reflection on region the regional and regional geography speaking directly to broader intellectual concerns with performance aesthetics identity mobilities the environment and the body Victorian Turns, NeoVictorian Returns Penny Gay, Judith Johnston, 2009-05-27 Victorian Turns NeoVictorian Returns Essays on Fiction and Culture brings together essays by scholars of international reputation in nineteenth century British literature Encompassing new work on Victorian writers and subjects as well as later readings rewritings and adaptations the two part arrangement of this collection highlights an ongoing dialogue Part One Victorian Turns focuses principally on some of the major novelists of the period George Eliot Charles Dickens Charlotte Bront while placing them in a wide cultural context in particular that provided by the intellectual journals to which many of the novelists contributed Reflecting the diversity of debate in the Victorian period contributors essays range across key topics of the day including the woman question class relations language science work celebrity and travel English writers consciousness of the challenging contemporary developments in French literature forms a significant and persistent theme In Part Two NeoVictorian Returns the rich and varied afterlife of Victorianism is touched on NeoVictorianism in contemporary literature and film demonstrates an ongoing and productive engagement with an age which established the social and cultural directions of the modern world In rewritings appropriations and colonial writings back and in the persistent power of nineteenth century images and stories in modern cinema the period s social cultural and political modernity continues to flourish The Living Age ,1921
