Path A Workbook For Planning Positive Possible Futures:

PATH Jack Pearpoint, John O'Brien, Marsha Forest, 1993 PATH is a creative planning tool which starts in the future and works backwards to an outcome of first beginning steps that are possible and positive. It is excellent for team building. It has been used to mediate conflicts. It is loved by people who actually want to change the ways we currently work. PATH Jack Pearpoint, John O'Brien, Marsha Forest, 2001 PATH Jack Pearpoint, 1994 I Am who I Am Amy Hewitt, 1998 The Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice Alan Carr, Christine Linehan, Gary O'Reilly, Patricia Noonan Walsh, John McEvoy, 2016-04-12 The Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice will equip clinical psychologists in training with the skills necessary to complete a clinical placement in the field of intellectual disability. Building on the success of the previous edition, this handbook has been extensively revised. Throughout the text, references and website addresses have been updated to reflect important developments since the publication of the first edition. Recent research findings on the epidemiology, aetiology, course, outcome, assessment and treatment of all psychological problems considered in the book have been incorporated into the text. Account has been taken of changes in the diagnosis and classification of intellectual disability and psychological problems reflected in the AAIDD 11 and the DSM 5. New chapters on the assessment of adaptive behaviour and support needs, person-centred active support and the assessment of dementia in people with intellectual disability have been added. The book is divided into eight sections. Section 1 covers general conceptual frameworks for practice, diagnosis, classification, epidemiology and lifespan development. Section 2 focuses on assessment of intelligence, adaptive behaviour, support needs, quality of life and the processes of interviewing and report writing. Section 3 covers intervention frameworks, specifically active support, applied behavioural analysis and cognitive behaviour therapy. Section 4 deals with supporting families of children with intellectual disability, genetic syndromes and autism spectrum disorders. Section 5 covers issues associated with intellectual disability, first evident or prevalent in middle childhood. Section 6 deals with adolescent concerns, including life skills training, relationships and sexuality. Section 7 focuses on residential, vocational and family-related challenges of adulthood and aging. Section 8 deals with professional issues and risk assessment. Chapters cover theoretical and empirical issues on the one hand and practice issues on the other. They close with summaries and suggestions for further reading for practitioners and families containing a member with an intellectual disability. Where appropriate, in many chapters, practice exercises to aid skills development have been included. The second edition of the Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice is one of a set of three volumes which cover the lion's share of the curriculum for clinical psychologists in training in the UK and Ireland. The other two volumes are the Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology Third Edition by Alan Carr and the Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology Practice Second Edition edited by Alan Carr. Muireann McNulty Handbook of Research-Based Practices for Educating Students with Intellectual Disability Karrie A. Shogren, 2016-10-14 The Handbook of

Research Based Practices for Educating Students with Intellectual Disability provides an integrated transdisciplinary overview of research based practices for teaching students with intellectual disability This comprehensive volume emphasizes education across life stages from early intervention in schools through the transition to adulthood and highlights major educational and support needs of children and youth with intellectual disability The implications of history recent research and existing information are positioned to systematically advance new practices and explore promising possibilities in the field Driven by the collaboration of accomplished nationally recognized professionals of varied approaches and philosophies the book emphasizes practices that have been shown to be effective through multiple methodologies so as to help readers select interventions based on the evidence of their effectiveness Personalisation in Practice Suzie Franklin,Helen Sanderson,2013-11-21

Accessibly written this book shows how person centred planning tools and individual budgets work in practice Drawing on the experience of supporting a young woman with autism and learning difficulties through the transition into adulthood the authors clearly explain how the ideas discussed can be applied to a variety of circumstances The Art of Collaboration Katharine G. Shepherd,Kervick Colby T.,Djenne-amal N. Morris,2016-12-27

The Art of Collaboration Lessons from Families of Children with Disabilities co authored by two professors of education and a parent of a child with disabilities draws on the literature as well as original research to explore the meaning of collaboration and the benefits and barriers to developing positive school and family partnerships The voices and stories of families of children with a variety of disabilities and experiences are at the heart of the book providing insights into how we might re conceptualize collaboration as an ongoing process and an art built on a shared commitment to improving the lives of children and families The book begins with an overview of the research on collaboration and explores key themes including the process of identifying a disability the meaning of parent knowledge and expertise in the digital age the potential to join parent and professional knowledge for the benefit of the child and family and approaches leading to meaningful collaboration and communication These include a variety of family centered tools and practices strategies for promoting parent advocacy and leadership and a focus on hope and resiliency Each chapter concludes with questions for reflection and suggested activities making it an ideal resource for both parents and professionals Throughout the authors critique the collaborative process while focusing on its promises and possibilities for families educators and other professionals Planning and Support for People with Intellectual Disabilities Christine Bigby,Chris Fyffe,Elizabeth Ozanne,2007 Provides comprehensive information for any professional working with people with intellectual disabilities and outlines the skills needed and common issues in case management practice for working with people with intellectual disabilities at different stages of their life
