Frank,Oliver Leaman,2003-09-11

From the ninth to the fifteenth centuries Jewish thinkers living in Islamic and Christian lands philosophized about Judaism Influenced first by Islamic theological speculation and the great philosophers of classical antiquity and then in the late medieval period by Christian Scholasticism Jewish philosophers and scientists reflected on the nature of language about God the scope and limits of human understanding the eternity or createdness of the world prophecy and divine providence the possibility of human freedom and the relationship between divine and human law Though many viewed philosophy as a dangerous threat others incorporated it into their understanding of what it is to be a Jew This Companion presents all the major Jewish thinkers of the period the philosophical and non philosophical contexts of their thought and the interactions between Jewish and non Jewish philosophers It is a comprehensive introduction to a vital period of Jewish intellectual history

Time Matters T.M. Rudavsky,2012-02-01 Despite the importance of time and cosmology to Western thought surprisingly little attention has been paid to these issues in histories of Jewish philosophy Focusing on how medieval philosophers constructed a philosophical theology that was sensitive to religious constraints and yet also incorporated compelling elements of science and philosophy T M Rudavsky traces the development of the concepts of time cosmology and creation in the writings of Ibn Gabirol Maimonides Gersonides Crescas Spinoza and others
