Private Sufferings in the South African AIDS Epidemic Jonathan Stadler, 2021-04-26 This book tells the story of the HIV epidemic in South Africa and asks why after more than three decades it has not normalised. Despite considerable efforts to prevent infection and ambitious targets set to end the epidemic by 2030, HIV infections are increasing among young women and treatment uptake and adherence have been uneven. Focusing on the years preceding and following treatment access, this book addresses why an end to AIDS may be misplaced optimism. By examining public discourses and private narratives about infection, illness and death, this work reveals the contradictions between the lived experiences of AIDS suffering on the one hand and biomedical certainties on the other. Based on long-term ethnographic research in rural villages of the South African lowveld and within HIV prevention interventions in South Africa, more generally, this book offers an intimate perspective on the social and cultural responses to the epidemic.

Secrecy in Public Relations, Mediation and News Cultures Anne M. Cronin, 2023-01-19 This book investigates the relationship of secrecy as a social practice to contemporary media, news cultures and public relations. Drawing on Georg Simmel's theorisation of how secrecy produces a second world alongside the obvious world and creates and reshapes social relations, Anne Cronin argues for close analysis of the PR industry as a powerful vector of secrecy and an examination of its relationship to news cultures. Using case studies and in-depth interviews as well as recent research in media and cultural studies, sociology, journalism studies and communication studies, the book analyses how PR practices generate a second shadow world of the media sphere which has a profound impact on the obvious world. It interrogates both the PR industry's and news culture's role in shaping social relations for a digital media landscape and those initiatives promoting transparency of data and decision-making processes. An insightful interdisciplinary approach to debates on media and power, this book will appeal to students of public relations, sociology, media studies, cultural studies and communication studies. It will also be of interest to scholars and practitioners working at the intersections of media, social relations and public trust.

Rethinking the Spectacle Devin Penner, 2019-06-15 Spectacle is usually considered a superficial form of politics which tries to distract and deceive a passive audience. It is difficult to see how this type of politics could be reconciled with the democratic requirement of active and informed agency. Rethinking the Spectacle re-examines the tension between spectacle and political agency in our hyper-mediated digital society. Devin Penner uses the theories and practices of Guy Debord and the Situationist International as a point of departure, offering both a critical review of Situationist ideas and a way to develop their radical democratic potential in the current political climate. Emphasizing the importance of thinking about the connection between spectacle and broader democratic processes, Rethinking the Spectacle also looks at various models of social and political organization and includes an in-depth assessment of the 2011 Occupy movement. Ultimately, Rethinking the Spectacle concludes that properly conceived spectacle can in fact mobilize the public for egalitarian purposes.
