Public Relations In Schools:

Public Relations in Schools Theodore J. Kowalski, 2011 For educational administration and leadership students studying school and community relations A contemporary and practice based school public relations text that centers on the importance of communication relationships and technology Outfitting students with a wealth of practical practice based knowledge that they can take directly into the halls of their school the new fifth edition of Public Relations in Schools has a fresh contemporary focus on both how administrators can effectively communicate with the community and how building strong relationships with stakeholders can ultimately lead to overall school improvement Through a blend of theoretical and tacit knowledge this text offers students an in depth guide to 1 how to successfully communicate with both internal and external school entities 2 how to build and maintain positive and active relationships via social and political capital and 3 how to translate the value of these relationships into positive change within the school While exploring these three central themes the book emphasizes how new technologies can aid school success At the same time real world case studies at the beginning of each chapter introduce readers to actual public relations issues and bring the material to life The revised fifth edition of Public Relations in Schools is updated with new materials and references throughout the text including two new chapters one on harnessing technology for your public relations needs and one on collecting assessing and applying public opinion In addition the new fifth edition text contains a matrix at the front of the book showing how content relates to ELCC NCATE Standards the widely used criteria for administrator preparation and licensing School Public Relations for Student Success Edward H. Moore, 2009-08-11 succeed the communications expectations placed on school leaders at all levels continue to soar Now this field based reference offers educational leaders practical advice and specific tips for meeting the tough new communication demands they face daily Ideal for both long range planning and day to day basics this guide helps leaders define and organize their school s PR plan The book offers step by step guidance on creating and applying communication tactics that work from how to generate community support to managing crises stopping rumors handling media inquiries dealing with critics and much more Emphasizing the PR responsibilities of all school employees Public Relations for Public Schools Doyle M. Bortner, 1972 Public Relations in Educational Organizations Theodore J. Kowalski, 1996 This collection of readings addresses a demand being placed upon educational administrators using technology to create two way communications systems within their organizations and their communities It treats public relations as an indispensable element of leadership The book integrates theories and techniques taken from a variety of theorists and practitioners in both public relations and educational administration to provide an interdisciplinary contemporary foundation for practice In each chapter are case studies questions and suggested readings The School and Community Relations Don Bagin, Donald R. Gallagher, 2001 This book recognizes that publicity is required for interpreting the school to the community and the community to the school Well designed community relations programs can create a sense of friendliness and good will toward faculties provide adequate financial support for schools and develop a sense of responsibility in the community for the steady improvement of education. Theories, techniques, and tips to help educational leaders deal with communications challenges are detailed. In the seventh edition, two new chapters focus on crisis management, including school violence. Part 1, Essential Considerations, includes chapters on the public character of the school, understanding the community, the importance of the public relations program, and the program's policies, goals, strategies, and administration. Part 2, Relations with Special Publics, includes chapters on the communication process with internal and external publics, preparation for crises, and communication about school services and special events. Part 3 concerns communication tools. Its chapters consider working with the press, the use of the media, the Internet, printed materials, campaigns, and school choice. Part 4 is concerned with the assessment of the public relations program's degree of success. An index is provided, as well as a list of helpful organizations. Contains 97 references. RKJ

Public Relations For Schools Sally S. Lundblad, G. Kent Stewart, 2005-05-01 This handbook is for practitioners who lead public and private elementary schools, middle schools, or high schools. While most school leaders are basically adept at public relations, this book serves as a reminder of the importance of good public relations and provides ready access to tools necessary to hone and refine public relations skills. In addition to important information about public relations, this handbook is replete with examples of good public relations practices. The Communicating Principal Trinette Marquis, Natalie A. Nash, 2021-12-08 The demand for effective communication and marketing at the campus level has never been more urgent, and yet most administrators come into the role with little public relations expertise or background. Schools must navigate incredibly complex societal issues while they compete for students, engage families, and inspire staff and community members to give their best efforts and support. The Communicating Principal: Practical Strategies for School Leaders provides real-world stories, best practice guidelines, and practical communication checklists designed to help school leaders better understand their community and bring them in to co-create a vision for positive transformation. From social media and websites to crisis and internal messaging, this book shares systems and supports that make communicating easier and more effective. Every topic is covered from the lens of a principal: what you need, how it can be done quickly and inexpensively, and how to measure success so that it can be shared and replicated. Not every school or district can afford a communication professional The Communicating Principal is the next best thing
