Division of Water Rights, 1927 The Iron and Steel Magazine Albert Sauveur, 1905 Introduction to Geomicrobiology Kurt O. Konhauser, 2009-03-12 Introduction to Geomicrobiology is a timely and comprehensive overview of how microbial life has affected Earth's environment through time. It shows how the ubiquity of microorganisms, their high chemical reactivity and their metabolic diversity make them a significant factor controlling the chemical composition of our planet. The following topics are covered: how microorganisms are classified; the physical constraints governing their growth; molecular approaches to studying microbial diversity and life in extreme environments; bioenergetics; microbial metabolic capabilities and major biogeochemical pathways; chemical reactivity of the cell surface; metal sorption and the microbial role in contaminant mobility and bioremediation; biorecovery; microbiological mineral formation and fossilization; the function of microorganisms in mineral dissolution and oxidation and the industrial and environmental ramifications of these processes; elemental cycling in biofilms; formation of microbialites and sediment diagenesis; the events that led to the emergence of life; evolution of metabolic processes and the diversification of the biosphere. Henry, 2021-06-30 The global population is projected to reach almost 10 billion by 2050 and food and feed production will need to increase by 70%. Wheat, maize and sorghum are three key cereals which provide nutrition for the majority of the world's population. Their production is affected by various abiotic stresses which cause significant yield losses. The effects of climate change also increase the frequency and severity of such abiotic stresses. Molecular breeding technologies offer real hope for improving crop yields. Although significant progress has been made over the last few years, there is still a need to bridge the large gap between yields in the most favorable and most stressful conditions Crime Unlimited? Pat Carlen, Rod Morgan, 2016-07-27 Crime Unlimited Questions for the Twenty First Century comprises nine chapters contextualising crime and social control within debates about modernism, globalism, risk and technological innovation. It includes discussion of contemporary issues such as steroid use, gun control, privatised policing and youth scares involving alcopops and drugs. It also re-examines recurring issues about policing and punishment. The authors include Rebecca and Russell Dobash, Chris Hale, Dick Hobbs, Ian Loader, Tim Newburn, Howard Parker, Richard Sparks and Ian Taylor.
