Punishment And Social Structure:

Punishment and Social Structure Georg Rusche, Otto Kirchheimer, Dario Melossi, 2003-01-01 Why are certain methods of punishment adopted or rejected in a given social situation To what extent is the development of penal methods determined by basic social relations The answers to these questions are complex and go well beyond the thesis that institutionalized punishment is simply for the protection of society While today s punishment of offenders often incorporates aspects of psychology psychiatry and sociology at one time there was a more pronounced difference in criminal punishment based on class and economics Punishment and Social Structure originated from an article written by Georg Rusche in 1933 entitled Labor Market and Penal Sanction Thoughts on the Sociology of Criminal Justice Originally published in Germany by the Frankfurt Institute of Social Research this article became the germ of a theory of criminology that laid the groundwork for all subsequent research in this area Rusche and Kirchheimer look at crime from an historical perspective and correlate methods of punishment with both temporal cultural values and economic conditions The authors classify the history of crime into three primary eras the early Middle Ages in which penance and fines were the predominant modes of punishment the later Middle Ages in which harsh corporal punishment and capital punishment moved to the forefront and the seventeenth century in which the prison system was more fully developed They also discuss more recent forms of penal practice most notably under the constraints of a fascist state The majority of the book was translated from German into English and then reshaped by Rusche s co author Otto Kirchheimer with whom Rusche actually had little discussion While the main body of Punishment and Social Structure are Rusche s ideas Kirchheimer was responsible for bringing the book more up to date to include the Nazi and fascist era Punishment and Social Structure is a pioneering work that sets a paradigm for the study of crime and punishment
