Purge The Fate Of French Collaborators After World War II:

Croatia and Slovenia at the End and After the Second World War (1944-1945) Blanka Matkovich, 2017-10-01 This book focuses on the events that took place in late 1944 and 1945 in Croatia and Slovenia when the intensity of violence was strongest. At that time the Communist Party of Yugoslavia KPJ, assisted by the People's Liberation Army of Yugoslavia, the Yugoslav Army, the Department for the Protection of the People OZNA, and the Corps of People's Defence of Yugoslavia KNOJ, conducted organized terror not only by intimidation, persecution, torture, and imprisonment but also by the execution of a large number of citizens perceived by the KPJ as disloyal, passive ideological enemies, or class enemies. However, investigating war and post-war crimes committed by the communist regime was not possible until 1990 after the democratic changes in Yugoslavia. This book is based on documents kept in the archives of Croatia, Slovenia, the UK, and Serbia. Many of them, especially those in Croatia, recently became available to the public, which makes them an extremely valuable source of data to the academics and students in this field and which shed new light on these historical events. The Communist Party in the former Yugoslavia was an organization which used all available means to seize and keep power, including terror and mass murder, especially between autumn 1944 and summer 1945 when mass killings occurred across the country. However, in the Soviet sphere of influence, investigating war and post-war crimes committed by communist regimes was not possible until 1990. This project not only covers new ground in the research into communist war crimes at the end of and after the Second World War but also contributes to coming to terms with the past in the successor states of Yugoslavia by studying one of the most controversial episodes in the contemporary history of the Balkans. Since the October Revolution, when for the first time in history a Marxist party seized state power, communist regimes have influenced the lives of more than a billion people, caused millions of deaths, and violated the human rights of countless people. However, in the Soviet sphere of influence and in Yugoslavia, investigating war and post-war crimes committed by communist regimes was not possible until 1990 after the democratic changes in Eastern Europe. Resolution 1481/2006 of the Council of Europe Parliamentary Assembly strongly condemned human rights violations committed by totalitarian communist regimes, and the 2008 Prague Declaration on European Conscience and Communism stated that these crimes were comparable with Nazi crimes, but very few people have been tried for committing such crimes. Nevertheless, 25 years later in former Yugoslav republics, this topic is still a matter of political and scientific debates.

Transitional Justice Neil J. Kritz, 1995 KGB Files and Agents Goering's Man in Paris Jonathan Petropoulos, 2021-01-01 A charged biography of a notorious Nazi art plunderer and his career in the postwar art world, Petropoulos brings Lohse into sharper focus as a personality and axis point from which to explore a network of art dealers, collectors, and museum curators connected to Nazi looting. What emerges from Petropoulos's research is a portrait of a charismatic and nefarious figure who tainted everyone he touched. Nina Siegal, New York Times Readers of art history and WWII biographies will appreciate this engrossing deep dive into one of the world's most prolific art looters. Publishers Weekly
